THE TRIO STORY

established in 1978 by the visionary Mr. Mukund Vasudeo Kulkarni, TRIO Group has grown into a trusted manufacturing partner to leading international brands.

Today, this heritage of craftsmanship provides the foundation upon which the TRIO brand is built—a contemporary brand where thoughtful design, creativity, and uncompromising quality come together.

Guided by French artistic direction and brought to life through the excellence of Indian craftsmanship, each collection is inspired by a simple philosophy: true luxury lies in the balance between design, functionality, and enduring quality. Contemporary yet timeless, TRIO is designed for modern life—elegant in form, purposeful in function, and crafted to endure beyond seasons.

THE DESIGNER

Philippe Waintraub

I discovered leather goods at the age of thirteen thanks to my father, a master leather craftsman, who passed on to me his passion for leather and his craftsmanship. Inspired by the elegance of Parisian women, I began designing my first handbags.

For more than thirty-five years, my brother and I ran a workshop specializing in exotic leather bags, which gained recognition first in France and then in Japan. In 2000, I joined Le Tanneur to design the brand's collections, before collaborating with brands such as Balmain, Yves Saint Laurent, Jean Paul Gaultier, Renoma, Carven, and Givenchy.

Today, I continue this journey with an Indian luxury leather goods house, guided by the same ambition: to create handbags that transcend time, cultures, and borders.

THE SIGNATURE CHARM

very TRIO piece carries a distinctive signature charm featuring three fish moving together in harmony.

Across cultures, the fish has long been associated with prosperity, vitality, adaptability, and the continuous flow of life. For TRIO, the three fish represent the values that guide every creation: movement, balance, and connection.

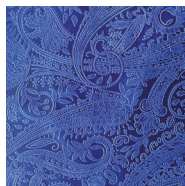

Designed as a symbol of continuity and shared purpose, the charm reflects the meeting of design, craftsmanship, and functionality — the three elements at the heart of the brand.

A subtle detail, yet instantly recognizable, it serves as a reminder that true luxury is often found in the smallest and most thoughtful expressions of craftsmanship.
